6. Percent or Dollar Amount of Participant's Retirement Allowance to be paid by the Division of Pensions and Benefits to the Alternate Payee?

Option #1: Percent of Marital Share: _____ %

(If a Percent of Marital Share is chosen above, the Marital Share will be expressed as follows: A fraction, the numerator of which is the total number of months of the Participant's participation in the Plan during the marriage, and the denominator of which is the total number of months of the Participant's participation in the Plan as of the date of retirement. This is the only option for determination of the portion of the benefits accumulated during the period of marriage which is acceptable to the Division of Pensions and Benefits.)

Option #2: Percent of Monthly Benefit: _____ %

Option #3: Dollar Amount (per month): $ _____

Option #4 Gross Dollar Amount: $ _____
 (50% of the Participant's gross monthly benefit shall be paid to the Alternate Payee until the gross dollar amount designated is paid in full. However, if the Participant predeceases the Alternate Payee no further payments to the Alternate Payee shall be made even if the Alternate Payee has not received payment in full.)

If a Dollar Amount (per month) is awarded, should the Alternate Payee receive a pro-rata share of any Post-retirement Cost of Living Adjustments? (If a Percent of Marital Share or Percent of Monthly Benefit is awarded, Post-retirement Cost of Living Adjustments will automatically apply to the Alternate Payee's share)

Yes  No

When will the Alternate Payee's benefits start? Benefits will commence to the Alternate Payee when the Participant actually retires (Only Option)

Form of payment to the Alternate Payee: Benefits will be paid to the Alternate Payee on a monthly basis. (Only Option)

7. At the time of retirement should the Participant elect a survivor option and designate the Alternate Payee as beneficiary of such option? (This question only pertains to the Public Employees Retirement System and the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund. Under the Police and Firemen's Retirement System, the State Police Retirement System and the Judicial Retirement System, a divorce/dissolution automatically precludes a Participant's former spouse/partner from ever receiving a survivor's benefit.) If no option is elected upon the Participant's death or the death of his/her former spouse/partner, all withholdings mandated under a matrimonial/civil union dissolution order will cease.

Yes  No  This question should not be addressed

If the answer to the above question is yes, which of the following options should be elected?

Maximum Option: This option provides the Participant with the highest retirement allowance payable. Upon the death of the Participant all pension benefits will cease. If the Participant's death should occur before the Participant has received distribution of all his/her accumulated pension contributions, with interest, the remainder of the undistributed contributions will be paid to the Participant's beneficiary. If the Participant is legally married and chooses the Maximum Option, State law requires that his/her spouse be notified of the Participant's choice.

Example: Participant retires with a $2,500 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death pension payments shall cease.

Option A: This option provides that, upon the Participant's death, a single beneficiary will receive the same monthly allowance that the Participant was receiving at the time of the Participant's death for the duration of the beneficiary's lifetime. Should the Participant and the beneficiary die before all of the Participant's accumulated pension contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid to the Participant's contingent beneficiary or estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $1,250 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will continue to receive a $1,250 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit is increased to the Maximum Option.

Option B: This option provides that upon the Participant's death a single beneficiary will receive 75 percent of the monthly allowance that the Participant was receiving at the time of the Participant's death for the duration of the beneficiary's lifetime. Should the Participant and beneficiary die before all the Participant's accumulated pension contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid to the Participant's beneficiary or estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $2,000 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will receive a $1,500 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit is increased to the Maximum Option.

____ Option C: This option provides that, upon the Participant's death, a single beneficiary will receive one-half of the monthly allowance that the Participant was receiving at the time of the Participant's death for the duration of his/her lifetime. Should the Participant and beneficiary die before all the Participant's accumulated pension contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid to the Participant's estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $2,000 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will receive a $1,000 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit is increased to the Maximum Option.

____ Option D: This option provides that, upon the Participant's death, a single beneficiary will receive 25 percent of the monthly allowance that the Participant was receiving at the time of the Participant's death for the duration of his/her lifetime. Should the Participant and beneficiary die before all the Participant's accumulated pension contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid to the Participant's estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $2,000 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will receive a $500 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit is increased to the Maximum Option.

____ Option #1: This option sets aside an initial reserve based on the Participant's life expectancy. This reserve is then reduced each month by the amount of the Participant's initial monthly retirement allowance. Upon the Participant's death, the balance of the reserve, if any, is paid to the Participant's beneficiary(ies). If the Participant exhausts his/her initial reserve, the Participant will continue to receive the Participant's monthly retirement allowance during the course of the Participant's lifetime; however, there are no further pension benefits payable to the Participant's beneficiary(ies).

A Participant may designate more than one beneficiary for Option 1. A beneficiary may be a person, a charity, an institution or the Participant's estate. The Participant may change a beneficiary under this option at any time. Upon the Participant's death, the Participant's beneficiary may elect to receive the proceeds in a lump sum or as an annuity payable over a certain number of years.

Example: Participant retires, designates an initial reserve of $50,000 and receives a $1,500 monthly benefit. If the Participant would die one year after retirement, his/her beneficiary(ies) would receive $32,000 in a lump-sum or a monthly annuity over a certain number of years; if, in this case the Participant lives beyond 33 months the Participant would have exhausted the initial reserve, will continue to receive a monthly benefit of $1,500, but upon his death the beneficiary would not receive a benefit.

____ Option #2: This option provides that, upon the Participant's death a single beneficiary will receive the same monthly allowance that the Participant was receiving at the time of the Participant's death for the duration of the beneficiary's lifetime. Should the Participant and beneficiary die before all the Participant's contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid to the Participant's contingent beneficiary or estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $1,250 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will continue to receive a $1,250 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit will not be increased and the Participant may not name a new beneficiary.

____ Option #3: This option provides that, upon the Participant's death, a single beneficiary will receive one-half of the monthly allowance that the Participant was receiving at the time of the Participant's death for the duration of the his/her lifetime. Should the Participant and beneficiary die before all the Participant's contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid to the Participant's estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $2,000 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will receive a $1,000 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit will not be increased and the Participant may not name a new beneficiary.

____ Option #4: This option provides that, upon the Participant's death, the Participant's beneficiary(ies) will receive a specified fixed monthly allowance for the duration of the beneficiary(ies) lifetime. The beneficiary's allowance cannot be more than the Participant's allowance. Should the Participant and his/her beneficiary die before all the Participant's accumulated pension contributions plus interest have been distributed as part of a monthly allowance, the remainder will be paid for the Participant's estate.

Example: Participant retires and both the Participant and beneficiary receive a $2,000 monthly benefit. Upon the Participant's death, the beneficiary will receive a $750 monthly benefit for the remainder of their lifetime. If the beneficiary predeceases the Participant, the Participant's benefit will not be increased and the Participant may not name a new beneficiary.
